About Conference

The International Conference on Emerging Trends and Contemporary Practices is intended to explore pathways to address current and emerging sustainability challenges by empowering learners with new skills, values and attitudes that lead to a sustainable world.

The conference will include educators, leaders, policymakers, teachers, and practitioners from various disciplines and professions. It will provide a platform to share experiences, stories, and best practices on numerous facets of sustainability education from a broader perspective taking into consideration global issues and challenges as well as regional and national realities.

Objective

The conference will focus on sharing innovative ideas and understanding on sustainability education within the overall objective of realization of Sustainable Development Goals under the current scenario towards positive action for a better quality of life and environment, ultimately leading to SDG achievement and creating a sustainable future for all.

THEME OF CONFERENCE

TECHNOLOGY

CO- EXISTENCE

Tracks

TECHNOLOGY:

Globally, the technological developments are happening at the rapid pace, influencing the complete shift in the way of doing the things. On the one side, the new technology driven development models are triggering innovation across the industries and sectors. Through this track, we seek research contributions focusing on new technological developments as well as technology-driven solutions to different social, economic and environmental problems. We also encourage researchers to critically examine and assess the application of technology across the different settings with emphasis on arising issues from the use of technology. More specifically one or more dimensions of technology development and its' application can be linked to some of the following:

- ❖ Artificial Intelligence (AI), Machine Learning (ML) and Internet of Things (IoT)
- ❖ Big Data and edge computing
- ❖ Robotic process automation
- ❖ Renewable energy – wind power, solar energy, geothermal energy, tidal energy, biomass, biofuel and hydro-fuel
- ❖ E-mobility and sustainable transportation
- ❖ Tech-driven business, social enterprises and other developmental interventions

SUSTAINABILITY:

Sustainability consists of fulfilling the needs of current generations without compromising the needs of future generations, while ensuring a balance between economic growth, environmental care and social well-being. Through exclusive track on sustainability, we invite inter-disciplinary research contributions focusing on identification of sustainability issues and/or proposing the solutions. Some of the indicative areas are:

- ❖ Business processes and practices for sustainability performance
- ❖ Sustainable infrastructure and real-estate
- ❖ Sustainable Agriculture
- ❖ Sustainable enterprises and triple bottom-line optimization
- ❖ Developing sustainable mindset
- ❖ Education for sustainable world
- ❖ Drivers of sustainability in a particular context
- ❖ Indian Knowledge System and Sustainability

CO-EXISTENCE:

Co-existence is living in harmony and peace with other individuals, systems and nature at large. Developing co-existential systems and individuals requires not only the appreciation towards rights and dignity of others but also the logical analysis and interventions to prevent the adverse impacts of race towards accelerated growth. The human factor is at the core of the co-existential philosophy. In this interdisciplinary track, we invite research contributions that investigate one or more of the following:

- ❖ Education and training for co-existential living
- ❖ Comparative philosophies and elements of co-existential living
- ❖ Models and practices promoting co-existence at different levels
- ❖ Systemic interventions for peace and harmony
- ❖ International efforts in promoting co-existence, peace and harmony
- ❖ Factors challenging realization of co-existential living
